

PRESS RELEASE – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (October 19, 2018)

Grapevine Art Project Releases Full Fall Schedule of Activities

The Grapevine Art Project will have a family-friendly exhibit in the North Richland Hills Atria Senior Center during the month of December. The exhibit will be open during normal business hours, and is free of charge. Another exhibit is currently open at the Grapevine REC during the month of October.

Anastasia Smith was one of 150 artists selected to participate in ArtCon, a charity organization that raises money for different DFW area non-profits. The 2018 recipient is Cry Havoc Theater Company. The art auction will be held on Saturday, November 10 at the Boedecker Building in downtown Dallas.

Naomi Fron will have four pieces of her art on exhibit at the Keller's Got Talent Art Show from October 1 through November 30. A number of additional Grapevine Art Project artists are exhibiting in this show. The show is in Keller Town Hall. There is an Artist Award Reception on Thursday, October 11.

KC Hulsman was awarded a Second Place ribbon for her photographic work "This Side of the Pond" at the 2018 IAA Animal Art Competition and Exhibition. KC often features pastoral scenes from the region, including flora and fauna.

Chris Brandley announced that she will continue her popular art classes in Europe this coming summer with a workshop in Italy. This workshop is filling quickly. The southern France workshop this recent summer was completely filled.

The Grapevine Art Project holds monthly meetings on the second Thursday evening of each month, often featuring presentations and demonstrations from highly regarded artists in many diverse media. Visitors are welcome to attend and learn more about the organization, its members, and programs. Artists include painters, photographers, potters, jewelers, sculptors, weavers, and other visual media formats. New members, even those who are not artists, are always welcome.

GAP is a well-established community of more than 85 artists from Grapevine, Texas and surrounding areas, who love to create, enjoy, and learn about art. The Grapevine Art Project is open to artists who work in any media. For more information, visit us at www.grapevineartproject.com
